

The 15th International Colloquium

on Gregory of Nyssa

University of Exeter, United Kingdom

Tuesday 6th – Friday 9th September 2022

Gregory of Nyssa's De anima et resurrectione

2. Call for applications to the doctoral workshop

Following the successful doctoral workshops at the colloquia in Rome and Paris, the committee invite proposals from current doctoral students to join the doctoral workshop in Exeter.

Purpose / structure of the workshop:

Successful applicants will be given the opportunity to discuss their work with a more experienced scholar in the field, who will have read a sample of their work in advance. Each workshop session will include several such discussions, so that students can learn from their peers as well as from their appointed mentor. Successful applicants will be expected to attend the whole conference. Provision will be made for some students to attend on-line if they are unable to attend in person.

Eligibility:

- You will be a student at any stage of your doctoral programme prior to your final examination.
- You will be writing a doctoral dissertation on Gregory of Nyssa, or on early Christian eschatology or on related authors or themes (e.g. on one of the other Cappadocians, or on philosophy and theology in the fourth century).
- If your proposal is successful, you will need to submit a piece of work relating to your doctoral dissertation by 15th July 2022. This piece of writing should be 5,000 words maximum. It could be e.g. a detailed research proposal/chapter plan, a summary of research findings so far, or one chapter/part of one chapter.

How to apply:

Please send the following to gregoryofnyssacolloquium@gmail.com by 12 noon on 27th May 2022:

- application form (see overleaf) with the title of your dissertation and an explanation of what work you would submit if you were chosen for the workshop;
- a brief CV (one or two pages);
- a brief letter of recommendation from your doctoral supervisor (no more than one page).

The committee will inform you whether your proposal has been accepted by 10th June 2022.

The languages of the conference are: English, French, German, Italian and Spanish; proposals and papers are accepted in any of these languages.

We look forward to welcoming you to the colloquium!

Morwenna Ludlow, Richard Flower, Brandon Gallaher, Gabriele Galluzzo, Emma Loosley Leeming

The 15th International Colloquium on Gregory of Nyssa University of Exeter, 6th–9th September 2022

Gregory of Nyssa's De anima et resurrectione

Proposal form for doctoral workshop:

Name
Institution
Proposed title/subject of your dissertation here
Doctoral supervisor(s)
Please give a summary in 300 words of the work you would submit for discussion, if your application is successful. (Work for discussion should be no longer than 5000 words.)
Please submit to:- gregoryofnyssacolloquium@gmail.com by noon on Friday 27th May 2022.	